APPOINTED HEAD OF NEW LAND BANK

E. B. Thomas Selected President of Financial Institution to be Established in Porto Rico

TO LEAVE HERE ABOUT MAY 1

Rushville Man Member of Federal Commission Which Recommended Bank—To Do Pioneer Work

E. B. Thomas, secretary of the Peoples Loan and Trust company since its organization thirteen years ago, has been appointed president of the federal land bank which will be established at San Juan, capital of Porto Rico, and will leave about May 1 to take up his new work.

Mr. Thomas was appointed by the federal farm loan board, which is composed of two republicans and two democrats selected by the president, and the secretary of the treasury, who is an ex-officio member.

The Rushville man will do pioneer work in the insular possession of the United States because nothing of the sort has ever been attempted there before. He will literally have to "blaze the trail" because the methods of loaning money in Porto Rico date back to the old Spanish customs and the land titles are indefinite and intricate.

Mr. Thomas' appointment came about when an American commission of which he was a member, made an investigation of conditions on the island last June, and reported back to the farm loan board that the establishment of a federal land bank in Porto Rico would be feasible and that there was a demand from the people for such an institution.

As a member of the commission of inquiry, it was Mr. Thomas' assignment to make inquiries and observations regarding the customs of the people and the land titles. A lawyer member of the commission investigated the legal phases of the question to determine whether there were any insurmountable obstacles in the way of establishing a United States land bank.

The present laws in Porto Rico empower notary publics, who are officials of some note on the island, to execute mortgages, for which they charge enormous fees. The law provides that mortgages shall be in the handwriting of the notary, making it impossible to use printed forms or even type-written copies for mortgages.

The commission informed leading Porto Ricans that laws would have to be passed to make the business of loaning money on land less expensive, and it is said that legislation to correct this defect has been

CONSIDER BUYING A STREET SPIKER

City Council in Special Meeting to Discuss Purchase of Machine to Maintain Streets.

16 CAR LOADS OF GRAVEL USED

Several members of the city council met Friday night to talk over the possibility of purchasing a street spiker, and a representative of a firm was present and presented photographs of an engine which he would like to sell. The councilmen have had in mind for some time the buying of a steam or gasoline road roller and spiker, by which the streets could be graded and taken care of properly.

No action was taken, but the matter may come up for discussion at the next regular session.

The work of placing gravel on the streets is progressing rapidly, and will probably be finished by next week. Sixteen car loads have been put on so far, according to E. J. Farthing, street commissioner, who also stated that many more loads will be required.

The street department is anxious to have the gravel placed and packed before the oil is applied, which will be about the middle of May.

BUSSARD TO ERECT AN ADDITION TO GARAGE

Recently Purchased the Homestead of the Late James Gwinn Adjoining Garage

MOVING FRAME BUILDING

O. F. Bussard, owner of a garage at the corner of Perkins and Second streets, who recently purchased the homestead of the late James Gwinn, adjoining his garage to the south, will erect an addition to the garage this fall and is now moving the frame dwelling to a vacant lot at the corner of Cherry and Eleventh streets.

Mr. Bussard has an architect working on the plans for the enlargement of the building which will extend to the south over the site used by the dwelling, and to the rear for a distance of 120 feet. It is understood that the present building will be remodeled, making the new structure one large building.

The old Gwinn residence will be used as a rental property when placed in the new location in East Eleventh street.

TWO RUSHVILLE BOYS APPLICANTS

Theodore W. Abercrombie and W. Churchill Allen Seek Admission to Camp Roosevelt

1922 TO BE THE BANNER YEAR

One Reason For Increased Attendance Will be Change in Location to LaPorte, Indiana.

Rushville is listed among the earliest applications for attendance at Camp Roosevelt, the national boys' camp near LaPorte, Indiana. W. Churchill Allen and Theodore W. Abercrombie have sent in their applications to the camp headquarters, Room 503-460 S. State street, Chicago, for attendance during the entire six weeks of the course.

Camp Roosevelt is an educational training encampment, operated by the Chicago Board of Education, under direct command of Major E. L. Beals, U. S. A., camp founder. Boys from all parts of the country are eligible for attendance.

From the number of enrollments being received, it is anticipated that the summer of 1922 will be the banner year for the camp. One reason for this increased attendance will undoubtedly be the change in location, which brings the camp so much nearer to Chicago than the former camp site in Michigan.

Camp Roosevelt is the only camp of its kind in the country, and it is a distinct forward movement in Americanization. The effects of the training received in leadership, initiative and self-control have a splendid and far-reaching influence on the boy that will help him to become the very highest type of manhood, it is asserted. But it is not intended primarily as a military school, according to the organizers. The diversified program of physical education, athletics, summer school, military instruction, scoutcraft and recreation is made possible through the co-operation of the U. S. war department and the Chicago public high schools.

The camp was founded in the interests of American young manhood, to be a great outdoor playground and health-builder. To accommodate as many boys as possible, the fee was made sufficiently low to be available to any healthy boy who desires to attend the camp.

FESTIVITIES END THE SCHOOL TERMS

Class Plays, Baccalaureate Sermons and Commencement Exercises Hold School Patrons Attention

FULL SWING LAST NIGHT

Center and Arlington Hold Commencement, Milroy, Manilla and New Salem Have Class Plays

Class plays, baccalaureate sermons and graduation exercises are now holding the attention of school patrons all over the county, and Friday night was the occasion for many such activities in several parts of the county, with two commencements and three class plays.

Eleven seniors were graduated at Arlington and three at the Center high schools last night, and several more schools will hold their exercises next week.

The schools of Manilla, Milroy and New Salem held their class plays last night, and although Carthage previously presented their class play, the music department in the high school presented a musical comedy last night at the auditorium.

The eleven graduates at Arlington were the Misses Marie Alsman, Nedda Arnold, Florence Schaeffer, Mildred Catherine and Mabel Lee, and Lowell Offutt, Denning Nelson, Lee Mitchell, Will Marshall, Donald Birt and Dwight Beckner. The class address was given by E. D. Wetherow, state school inspector.

The address for the Center graduates was delivered by Charles Watkins, of Muncie, who is a well known orator in this county. The three graduates were Edna Atkins, Lowell Jessup and Gladys Blount. The Raleigh orchestra had charge of the musical program.

The class plays at Milroy, New Salem and Manilla were largely attended last night, and each was being praised today. The plays at Milroy and Manilla will be repeated again tonight.

The Rushville township high school at Webb will graduate thirteen seniors on Tuesday night, and the list includes Harriet Halterman, Von Gardner, Mary Hungerford, Lena Hungerford, Mary and Louise Kirk, Elvira Mull, Orpha Wagoner, Aileen Riggs, Violet Watson, Ralph Hill, Herman Hurst and Arnold Myers.

The exercises on Tuesday and the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday night will be held at the Big Flat-rock church, with the sermon on Sunday night by the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Crawley, and the commencement address will be delivered by Dr. J. L. McBrien of the State Normal college, Terre Haute. The class day

ANNUAL CONCLAVE ON MAY 10 AND 11

Rushville Commandery, Knights Templar, Putting Forth Big Event To Make Good Showing

THEY HAVE WON TWO CUPS

Attendance Cup For Largest Percent of Membership Present Again Set For the Goal

Rushville commandery No. 49, Knights Templar, is hard at work in the campaign to get a large representation at the sixty-eighth annual conclave of the Grand Commandery of the state of Indiana to be held in Indianapolis May 10 and 11.

The commandery hopes to run a special car over the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction line for the conclave and fifty percent of the number necessary to get a special is now pledged, so that it is felt there will be little difficulty in arranging for the car. The goal is one hundred members of Rushville Commandery at the annual meeting.

Parlors A and B on the second floor of the Lincoln hotel have been engaged as headquarters for the Rushville commandery, the same as were used last year, and the Indianapolis News' Newsboys band has also been arranged to lead Rushville commandery in the parade.

The Rushville Knights will go to Indianapolis once more to bring home an attendance cup, a thing which they have accomplished twice in the past. In 1915 they won the first one for having the largest percentage of their members present in the zone to which Rushville commandery belongs. Again in 1920 the attendance cup in their zone was won.

It was this same year that Rushville won a double victory by bringing about the election of Will M. Sparks as grand warder, which is the first step in the path that leads to the grand commander's office. The grand warder is elected each year and the other officers are advanced. Last year Judge Sparks was advanced to the office of grand sword bearer and this year he will be moved up to the rank of grand standard bearer.

Rushville commandery will have further distinction this year because Wilbur Stiers, past commander of Rushville commandery, has been appointed to a place on the staff of the grand commander and will appear with the staff in the parade.

An extensive program has been arranged for the visiting commanderies by the Indianapolis order and a good time will be given to all.

SKETCHES FOR MAGAZINE

Viola Mae Gray Staff Artist on Chicago Bank Publication

Miss Viola Mae Gray, daughter of Mrs. Flora Gray of Chicago, formerly of this city, is the staff artist on the magazine, "Among Ourselves," which is published by the Federal Reserve club of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, where she is employed. The cover design and several sketches in the current number of the magazine were drawn by her.

Miss Gray is studying art and is working in the bank until next fall when she will re-enter the University of Illinois at Champaign, where she will be the illustrator for the university-daily paper. She is employed in the bank in a clerical capacity and her work on the magazine is merely incidental.

ARBOR DAY MEANS MORE THIS YEAR

Immense Wealth in Native Hardwoods is Disappearing and More Trees Should be Planted

LIEBER MAKES AN APPEAL

Points Out That Gigantic Forest Trees Have Made Way to Pastures and Field Lands

By RICHARD LIEBER

(Director of the state department of conservation).

(Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, April 22.—Arbor day undoubtedly means more to Indiana this year than at any time in the state's history.

After a period of indifference during which immense wealth in native hardwoods—the finest in the world—was cut owing to commercial demands for Indiana hardwoods, the people at last realize that one of our state's greatest resources is near exhaustion. In addition to lack of timber, underground water tables are receding, floods are more frequent for lack of checks at the headwaters, soil wash and erosion common and land heretofore fertile, is now unproductive. Added to this it has cost the people of this state more than a million dollars a year in freight rates to obtain the needed timber from forests of different states.

Pure prodigality and selfish interests to acquire fabulous riches through sacrifice of nature's greatest endowments brought about this deplorable condition. Whereas the state's 22,000,000 acres formerly grew gigantic forest trees, today we have less than 2,000,000 acres in growing timber much of which is of only mediocre quality.

Potential forest lands lie chiefly in the southern part of the state. It is estimated whole counties could more profitably grow trees, owing to the rough topography, than to follow agriculture or dairying.

TO PUT RUSS ON PROBATION

France Offers Conditional Recognition of Soviet Government

(By United Press)

Genoa, April 22.—France today offered conditional recognition to the Russian Bolshevik government.

Louis Barthou, chief of the French delegation to the Genoa economic conference, announced willingness to extend this recognition provided Russia carried out its promises made in its reply to the allied demands. But first he said, Russia, must be put on probation.

CHANGE IN COURSE OF BRANCH IS PLAN

Proposal to Enclose Open Ditch is Expected to Meet With Violent Opposition

THE NEW COURSE PROPOSED

Many Property Owners Living as Far East as Main Street Would Help Bear Cost

The proposed rerouting of the course of Hodges Branch, and the enclosing of the open ditch into a sewer, is causing considerable comment from people living in the vicinity of the proposed change, and it is expected that when the matter comes up for remonstrating, that the project will be bitterly fought.

Members of the city council recently acted favorably on a proposition presented to them by residents living in the northwest portion of the city, in which they demanded that the open ditch be enclosed in sewer tile. Lon Stewart, city engineer, drew up plans and specifications in which he estimated the cost at $40,000 and proposed to change the course of the waterway at a point near Spencer street and the C. I. & W. railroad.

It is planned to run the sewer south along Spencer street under the railroad and under Third street, down to Second, and then west to the place where the branch now flows, and thus cutting off several turns which it now takes. The cost of the project will fall upon the property owners in Rushville corporation, which are affected by the improvement, and this will mean that many people living as far east as Main street will be taxed for the proposed improvement.

Members of the city council went over the ground with the engineer this week and it is expected that the project will be ordered and a time set for hearing remonstrances.

At the present time the improvement of a similar nature is involved in the circuit court, as the county board of commissioners turned it down and the original petitioners took an appeal to the circuit court, where the matter has never been heard.

The councilmen also will probably pave a half block in West Ninth street, near the Reynolds Manufacturing Company, where the heavy traffic is continually causing damage to the street.

CHARLES V. CARR IS GIVEN $90 DAMAGES

Jury Returns Verdict Against Lew Lewis, Walker Township Trustee, For Sheep Killed

THE SUM APPRAISERS FIXED

The jury which heard the case of Charles V. Carr against Lew Lewis, trustee of Walker township, a damage suit in which the plaintiff demanded judgment for sheep killed by dogs in the township, decided that the plaintiff should have the amount that the two appraisers fixed for the damage, and awarded him $90.

The case was given over to the jury late Friday and the jurors agreed on the first ballot and were out only five minutes. The plaintiff filed a claim of sheep killed and the trustee refused to pay the $90, and offered him $70, although the two appraisers placed his loss at $90.

Today was the final day of the February term of court, and several minor matters were taken up by the court. Next week will be vacation during the period between the two terms of court.

A total of 97 men will draw pay for jury services during the February term, which is almost a record for any single court term.

The Early Friends at Carthage

First Land Entered on the East Side of Blue River by Joseph Henley in 1821 And Six Years Later Walnut Ridge Was Established—Growth of Church and School to Present Time.

The following article is the second of a series regarding the early history of Rush County, which will be published in the Daily Republican between now and the Rush county centennial celebration in June. They will deal with various stages of the early development of the county and were written at the request and suggestion of the publicity committee for the centennial.—Editor's Note.

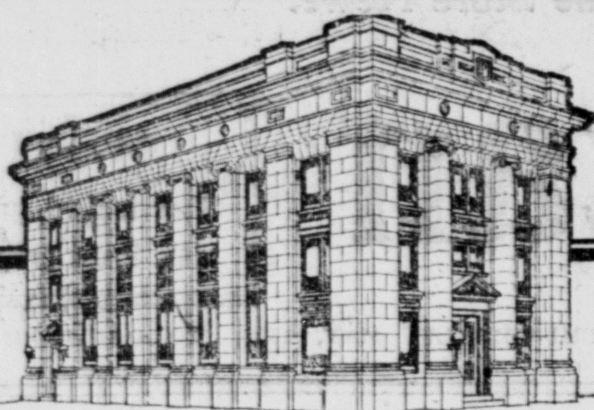

By OWEN S. HENLEY

Early in the Eighteenth Century the Friends in North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and other points in the South, were becoming dissatisfied under the conditions slavery was imposing upon them, and seeking means of bettering the surroundings of their children, Indiana Territory seemed a land of promise. Congress had passed an ordinance prohibiting slavery, and encouraging education. The first land entered upon the east side of Blue river was probably by Joseph Henley in 1821.

In the succeeding years until '32 or '33 the land was rapidly taken up by the families of Friends as follows: Jesse Hill, John Black, Thomas Henley, Luke Newsom, Jonathan Piereson, Henry Newby, Abraham Small, Elias Henley, Tristram Cogshall, Henry Henley, John Newby, Hezekiah Henley, William Binford, Johnathan Jessup, John Winslow and others. A Preparative meeting of Friends was established on the west side of Blue river, called Walnut Ridge in 1827, and these Friends on the east side of the river, made that their "religious home" until 1839, when a request was sent in to the meeting at Walnut Ridge for the establishing of a Meeting to be known as "Carthage Meeting of Friends." It was also requested that a committee be appointed to assist in the selection of a suitable location for the meeting house.

This committee reported one month later in favor of granting the request and suggested the northwest corner of Joseph Henley's, and the north corner of John Clark's farms, as a suitable place for

"Nothing Equals Conkey's"

U. R. Fishel, the well-known breeder of White Plymouth Rocks at Fishelton Farms, Hope, Ind., writes: "Conkey's Buttermilk Starting Feed is the best feed for young chicks. I have found nothing to equal it in the 40 years I have been in business."

Feed It for the First 8 Weeks

When the chicks are hatched, give them clean water with the chill taken off and fine grit, but no feed for 48 hours. Then feed Conkey's Buttermilk Starting Feed dry, often but sparingly for the first few days, so they will clean it up, gradually increasing, and continue for eight weeks, with occasionally a little green food. If you do this, you should lose very few chicks on account of sickness.

Conkey's Buttermilk Starting Feed is sold at dealers carrying poultry feeds and supplies. If your dealer can't supply you with Conkey's, write direct to us and we shall see that you are supplied.

Farmer's Wife Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her a Well Woman

Carter's Creek, Tenn. — "Three years ago I was almost an invalid. I spent half of my time in bed, being afflicted with a trouble which women of a certain age are apt to have. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a well woman now and have been for two years. I can work as well as any one who is younger and as I am a farmer's wife I have plenty to do for I cultivate my own garden, raise many chickens and do my own housework. Most women find plenty to do. If they are upset with some female ailment and troubled with such symptoms as Mrs. Galloway had, the smallest duty seems a mountain.

If you find it hard to keep up, if you are nervous and irritable, without ambition and out of sorts generally, give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. We believe it will help you greatly, for it has helped others.

exercises were held Friday at the school with a basket dinner at noon by the patrons of the schools.

The New Salem high school will graduate seven on Thursday night of next week with the address by Charles Watkins of Muncie, and the baccalaureate address will be given Sunday by the Rev. Talmage DeFrees of the Little Flat Rock church.

The Senior class of the Rushville high school will also present their annual play next week on Thursday and Friday nights at the Graham Annex auditorium, and the play will be a musical comedy, "The Far Away Princess," in which more than 40 of the seniors will take part. The commencement exercises, however, for Rushville, will not be held until May 26, which is the last day of the school year.

CARTHAGE EARLY FRIENDS

grounds to be used for meeting and school purposes. It is interesting to note the deeds for this ground state that for "love and the better maintenance of society we transfer this ground to the trustees in succession of said body." Soon after the transfer a good frame house commodious for that time, with two rooms connected by sliding shutters, was erected.

This served the congregation until 1866 when its capacity was just doubled by building on the west. This building then served until 1881, when the present substantial brick structure was erected, the Endeavor room on the north being added some years later. The "charter members" or Carthage Meeting of Friends, numbered 161 and at this time, 1922, one member, Jemina Henley White, remains alive, residing at Guilford College, North Carolina.

Education claimed the very early attention of these Friends on the east side, in 1830. A little log house was built, near where the home of William P. Newsom now stands. Here Henry Henley, George Hummcutt and others taught until 1834, when Thomas Henley, Thomas Hill and Henry Newby were appointed trustees to hold the deed, and build a house on the farm of Abraham Small, near where the overhead bridge now stands. A substantial frame building was erected here, eighteen by thirty-five feet and used for school purposes until 1839 when it was removed to the site selected for the Meeting house. Here it furnished accommodation for school purposes until 1849 when it was again removed into the town of Carthage and is now used for office purposes.

Quite a departure was now taken when a commodious house of three rooms was erected, school room, recitation room and lobby, principal and assistant were employed, and the school was so far in advance of the township schools that many "outsiders" pleaded for entrance and payment of tuition. From the church has gone out nearly one hundred teachers since its establishment. It has furnished to colleges more than one hundred students, many of them graduating and becoming noted characters.

William Binford was the first recorded minister to serve in the congregation. Others recorded by the meeting were David Marshal, Jared P. Binford, Henry C. Aydelotte, Mary N. Henley, Rhoda M. Hill and Herschel Folger, Robert Knight and William J. Thornberry came as sojourning ministers at different periods. Elwood Scott was the first pastor under the system introduced about 1881. Succeeded him were Mary-Nicols, Thos. W. Woodard and others for short terms. Alpheus Trueblood, Charles O. Whitely, J. Edgar Williams, Harry Hole, Fred C. Sebert, Albert J. Furstenberger, and Ida T. Parker, the present incumbent. The meeting owns about four acres of ground surrounding the church. In 1910 a parsonage was built, costing over $3,000. Upon the ground is also a cemetery with a liberal endowment, and it is kept in nice condition.

promised in order to get the land bank established.

Friends of Mr. Thomas here are rejoicing that he has received the appointment because they believe he merits it and because he is amply well qualified to perform the duties which will devolve upon him in establishing the bank, but they regret very much to see him leave Rushville, where he has been identified with the business, civic and religious life of the city for almost twenty-seven years.

Mr. Thomas was reared at Milroy and as a young man spent a few years in the west. He returned to Milroy and entered the hardware business with Wylie McKee, and continued that connection for about four years, or until August, 1895, when he began serving his first term as county recorder, having been elected on the republican ticket. Mr. Thomas was elected to a second term and served four years and four months, or until January 1, 1905, on account of the time of the expiration of the recorder's term having been changed by the legislature.

After leaving office, Mr. Thomas was appointed trustee for the Lambert carriage works in West Ninth street, and when the affairs of the concern were closed, he took up an active part in the campaign of James E. Watson, then sixth district congressman, for the republican nomination for governor in 1908. All of that year was spent in the campaign, in which Senator Watson was defeated by Thomas R. Marshall in a wet and dry fight.

The following year the Peoples Loan and Trust company was organized and Mr. Thomas was made its secretary.

Mr. Thomas rendered a very notable service during the war as chairman of the Rush county chapter of the American Red Cross and also devoted much of his time to making addresses in the interest of Liberty Loan campaigns and other patriotic work.

He has always taken an active part in all movements for the betterment of the city and county, and it is quite certain that his leaving Rushville will be a distinct loss to the community.

Newspaper Postage Rates

Analysis demonstrates that there is nothing to justify the retention of excessive war taxes on newspapers and periodicals. It is generally admitted that publications have become an inseparable part of our national life. There is nothing to supply the place of the home paper or favorite periodical, and nothing can compensate their influence. A vast majority of American citizens are dependent upon the press for intellectual companionship, because reading is the foundation of knowledge. The repressive policy of the government as manifested in continuing war taxes is essentially uneconomical and demoralizing to the publishing industry and the reading public.

The war revenue bill of 1917 carried a provision imposing increases on second-class mail matter as an emergency measure. The provision was written in the law without hearings or investigation, under pressure for war revenue, although the wisdom and justice of it were questioned and its operation deferred for a year to permit this revision. The promise to revise was never kept. Since the ending of the war all other taxes, with the exception of the estates tax, have been removed or modified by congress. Failure of legislators to heed the appeals of newspaper and periodical publishers has naturally reflected itself in the revenues of the postoffice department.

It is estimated that the publishers will pay the government for carrying their papers more than $33,000,000 during 1922. The publishing industry has been obliged to withstand deflation in common with other branches in business. However, other industries have been relieved of the burdens of war taxes and are naturally in a better position than the publishers. The government collected from the publishers $11,712,068.18 in 1918 and in the last fiscal year this amount had more than doubled, reaching a total of $25,496,719.94. These oppressive taxes have cut millions of dollars from the postoffice earnings because the larger publishers have found it possible to use private means of distribution at less than the government rate. Repeal of the last two postal increases will have a tendency to restore this traffic to government channels.

Unlike other industries, it is impossible for the publishers to shift this tax. It is absurd to suppose that tax can be passed on to the advertiser who uses the daily and weekly newspaper on periodical. The advertising rate of a publication is determined, not according to the cost of delivery, but according to the number of subscribers and their potential buying power. This advertising rate is always governed by competition with rates for advertising in non-mail and therefore untaxed mediums of publicity such as billboards and circulars. There is no good reason why the publishers of newspapers and magazines should be singled out to pay this extra war tax.

Moderate postage rates would keep the newspapers, invaluable means of intellectual intercourse, within the reach of all. The publishers are asking for the repeal of the last two increases, those which went into effect in 1920 and 1921. This relief, is granted by congress, would retain the rates which were in effect just prior to these increases. Legislation for this purpose would give the government 175 per cent more than the pre-war rates, and would not relieve the publishing industry of one cent of the other federal taxes now paid by other industries. In other words, publishers of newspapers and magazines are not asking for preferential treatment but for justice in order that they may continue as an integral part of our social and economic life.

STATE MEET AT RICHMOND

Expected That New Records Will be Established on Cinder Track
—Phillips is Mentioned

By HEZE CLARK
(Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, April 22—With less than a month remaining before the sectional track and field meets in which high school athletes qualify for the privilege of contesting in the state championship meet coaches of the teams are now busy with outdoor practice.

The state meet will be held at the Earlham College athletic field at Richmond and Ray Mowe, athletic director, of the Quaker college declared the track this year will be the fastest cinder path in the state. Mowe believes some new records will be made by the prep school athletes next month.

There is one thing about track and field sports which makes them popular; every high school man has an opportunity to compete in the contest in which he is best qualified. More boys get training in track athletics than in any other branch of prep school athletic activity. For example when "Shorty" Morrison, coach at the Indianapolis training school issued his first call for track men last week 123 candidates answered.

Last year Coach Morrison developed the track team that won the state championship in the meet held at Franklin.

There will be some more new names this year on the honor roll at the close of the state meet at Richmond for several of the big point men at last season's state championships have graduated. Schools over the state have been harder hit by graduation than have Manuel and Technical in this city, but Shortridge lost its best man, Lottick, a quarter mile runner.

Spradling, the Frankfort champion half miler, is still in school and it will take a fast boy to beat him. Last year Phillips of Rushville was a wonderful distance man. Summers of Manuel appears to be one of the best shot putters in the state.

Marks, the wonderful low hurdle man of Wabash, who broke the state record twice last year and lost in the final when he tripped and fell, will again step the 220 yard low hurdles for the northern Indiana school.

He is a quarter mile runner and a broad jumper. Sheridan high should be good this year in track.

Last year the state was divided into ten districts for the sectional track meets at which the men qualified for the state meet. It is probable these same centers will be chosen again this year. The cities where sectional meets were held

Tail Lights and Greensburg Will Pry Off League Lid Sunday

A large crowd of baseball fans from this city are expected to motor to Greensburg Sunday when the Tail Lights and Eagles will pry open the lid for the Southern Indiana League, and Rushville will present a strong line-up in an effort to win the first game. Barnhardt, a short stop, who played several games last year here, has been signed and will hold a position on the infield, probably at second. The squad of players now numbers about 16, and within a few weeks each team will have to register only a dozen players, and the Tail Lights are attempting to get a line on a good bunch of players before signing them up for the permanent season.

Three pitchers will be with Rushville Sunday, Plummer, Jerome and Huddleson, and Stoneking is booked to pitch for Greensburg. The game will begin at 2:30.

She is portrayed by Vola Vale, formerly leading woman for William S. Hart. Stone gives a rip-roaring exhibition in "The Duke of Chimney Butte." His skill at riding, at shooting and at roping steers and bad men is revealed in thrilling fashion, as are several other feats in which this skillful entertainer is the center of interest. APPOINTED HEAD OF NEW LAND BANK

E. B. Thomas Selected President of Financial Institution to be Established in Porto Rico

TO LEAVE HERE ABOUT MAY 1

Rushville Man Member of Federal Commission Which Recommended Bank—To Do Pioneer Work

E. B. Thomas, secretary of the Peoples Loan and Trust company since its organization thirteen years ago, has been appointed president of the federal land bank which will be established at San Juan, capital of Porto Rico, and will leave about May 1 to take up his new work.

Mr. Thomas was appointed by the federal farm loan board, which is composed of two republicans and two democrats selected by the president, and the secretary of the treasury, who is an ex-officio member.

The Rushville man will do pioneer work in the insular possession of the United States because nothing of the sort has ever been attempted there before. He will literally have to "blaze the trail" because the methods of loaning money in Porto Rico date back to the old Spanish customs and the land titles are indefinite and intricate.

Mr. Thomas' appointment came about when an American commission of which he was a member, made an investigation of conditions on the island last June, and reported back to the farm loan board that the establishment of a federal land bank in Porto Rico would be feasible and that there was a demand from the people for such an institution.

As a member of the commission of inquiry, it was Mr. Thomas' assignment to make inquiries and observations regarding the customs of the people and the land titles. A lawyer member of the commission investigated the legal phases of the question to determine whether there were any insurmountable obstacles in the way of establishing a United States land bank.

The present laws in Porto Rico empower notary publics, who are officials of some note on the island, to execute mortgages, for which they charge enormous fees. The law provides that mortgages shall be in the handwriting of the notary, making it impossible to use printed forms or even type-written copies for mortgages.

The commission informed leading Porto Ricans that laws would have to be passed to make the business of loaning money on land less expensive, and it is said that legislation to correct this defect has been

CONSIDER BUYING A STREET SPIKER

City Council in Special Meeting to Discuss Purchase of Machine to Maintain Streets.

16 CAR LOADS OF GRAVEL USED

Several members of the city council met Friday night to talk over the possibility of purchasing a street spiker, and a representative of a firm was present and presented photographs of an engine which he would like to sell. The councilmen have had in mind for some time the buying of a steam or gasoline road roller and spiker, by which the streets could be graded and taken care of properly.

No action was taken, but the matter may come up for discussion at the next regular session.

The work of placing gravel on the streets is progressing rapidly, and will probably be finished by next week. "Sixteen car loads have been put on so far, according to E. J. Farthing, street commissioner, who also stated that many more loads will be required.

The street department is anxious to have the gravel placed and packed before the oil is applied, which will be about the middle of May.

MOVING FRAME BUILDING

O. F. Bussard, owner of a garage at the corner of Perkins and Second streets, who recently purchased the homestead of the late James Gwinn, adjoining his garage to the south, will erect an addition to the garage this fall and is now moving the frame dwelling to a vacant lot at the corner of Cherry and Eleventh streets.

Mr. Bussard has an architect working on the plans for the enlargement of the building which will extend to the south over the site used by the dwelling, and to the rear for a distance of 120 feet. It is understood that the present building will be remodeled, making the new structure one large building.

The old Gwinn residence will be used as a rental property when placed in the new location in East Eleventh street.

TWO RUSHVILLE BOYS APPLICANTS

Theodore W. Abercrombie and W.
Churchill Allen Seek Admission to Camp Roosevelt

1922 TO BE THE BANNER YEAR

One Reason For Increased Attendance
Will be Change in Location to LaPorte, Indiana.

Rushville is listed among the earliest applications for attendance at Camp Roosevelt, the national boys' camp near LaPorte, Indiana. W. Churchill Allen and Theodore W. Abercrombie have sent in their applications to the camp headquarters, Room 503-400 S. State street, Chicago, for attendance during the entire six weeks of the course.

Camp Roosevelt is an educational training encampment, operated by the Chicago Board of Education, under direct command of Major E. L. Beals, U. S. A., camp founder. Boys from all parts of the country are eligible for attendance.

From the number of enrollments being received, it is anticipated that the summer of 1922 will be the banner year for the camp. One reason for this increased attendance will undoubtedly be the change in location, which brings the camp so much nearer to Chicago than the former camp site in Michigan.

Camp Roosevelt is the only camp of its kind in the country, and it is a distinct forward movement in Americanization. The effects of the training received in leadership, initiative and self-control have a splendid and far-reaching influence on the boy that will help him to become the very highest type of manhood, it is asserted. But it is not intended primarily as a military school, according to the organizers. The diversified program of physical education, athletics, summer school, military instruction, scoutcraft and recreation is made possible through the co-operation of the U. S. war department and the Chicago public high schools.

The camp was founded in the interests of American young manhood, to be a great outdoor playground and health-builder. To accommodate as many boys as possible, the fee was made sufficiently low to be available to any healthy boy who desires to attend the camp.

Evening preaching services at 7:30 p. m., subject, "The Perils of Indecision."

Center and Arlington Hold Commencement, Milroy, Manilla and
New Salem Have Class Plays

Class plays, baccalaureate sermons and graduation exercises are now holding the attention of school patrons all over the county, and Friday night was the occasion for many such activities in several parts of the county, with two commencements and three class plays.

Eleven seniors were graduated at Arlington and three at the Center high schools last night, and several more schools will hold their exercises next week.

The schools of Manilla, Milroy and New Salem held their class plays last night, and although Carthage previously presented their class play, the music department in the high school presented a musical comedy last night at the auditorium.

The eleven graduates at Arlington were the Misses Marie Alaman, Nedda Arnold, Florence Schaeffer, Mildred Casterline and Mabel Lee, and Lowell Offutt, Denning Nelson, Lee Mitchell, Will Marshall, Donald Birt and Dwight Beckner. The class address was given by E. D. Wetherow, state school inspector.

The address for the Center graduates was delivered by Charles Watkins, of Muncie, who is a well known orator in this county. The three graduates were Edna Atkins, Lowell Jessup and Gladys Blount. The Raleigh orchestra had charge of the musical program.

The class plays at Milroy, New Salem and Manilla were largely attended last night, and each was being praised today. The plays at Milroy and Manilla will be repeated again tonight.

The Rushville township high school at Webb will graduate thirteen seniors on Tuesday night, and the list includes Harriet Halterman, Von Gardner, Mary Hungerford, Lena Hungerford, Mary and Louise Kirk, Elvira Mull, Orpha Wagoner, Aileen Riggs, Violet Watson, Ralph Hill, Herman Hurst and Arnold Myers.

The exercises on Tuesday and the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday night will be held at the Big Flat-rock church, with the sermon on Sunday night by the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Crawley, and the commencement address will be delivered by Dr. J. L. McBrien of the State Normal college, Terre Haute. The class day

ANNUAL CONCLAVE ON MAY 10 AND 11

Rushville - Commandery, Knights
Templar, Putting Forth Big Event
To Make Good Showing

THEY HAVE WON TWO CUPS

Attendance Cup For Largest Percent of Membership Present
Again Set For the Goal

Rushville commandery No. 49, Knights Templar, is hard at work in the campaign to get a large representation at the sixty-eighth annual conclave of the Grand Commandery of the state of Indiana to be held in Indianapolis May 10 and 11.

The commandery hopes to run a special car over the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction line for the conclave, and fifty percent of the number necessary to get a special is now pledged, so that it is felt there will be little difficulty in arranging for the car. The goal is one hundred members of Rushville Commandery at the annual meeting.

Parlors A and B on the second floor of the Lincoln hotel have been engaged as headquarters for the Rushville commandery, the same as were used last year, and the Indianapolis News' Newsboys band has also been arranged to lead Rushville commandery in the parade.

The Rushville Knights will go to Indianapolis once more to bring home an attendance cup, a thing which they have accomplished twice in the past. In 1915 they won the first one for having the largest percentage of their members present in the zone to which Rushville commandery belongs. Again in 1920 the attendance cup in their zone was won.

It was this same year that Rushville won a double victory by bringing about the election of Will M. Sparks as grand warder, which is the first step in the path that leads to the grand commander's office. The grand warder is elected each year and the other officers are advanced. Last year Judge Sparks was advanced to the office of grand sword bearer and this year he will be moved up to the rank of grand standard bearer.

Rushville commandery will have further distinction this year because Wilbur Stiers, past commander of Rushville commandery, has been appointed to a place on the staff of the grand commander and will appear with the staff in the parade.

An extensive program has been arranged for the visiting commanderies by the Indianapolis order and a good time will be given to all.

ARBOR DAY MEANS MORE THIS YEAR

Immense Wealth in Native Hardwoods is Disappearing and
More Trees Should be Planted

LIEBER MAKES AN APPEAL

Points Out That Gigantic Forest
Trees Have Made Way to Pastures and Field Lands

By RICHARD LIEBER

(Director of the state department of conservation.)

(Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, April 22.—Arbor day undoubtedly means more to Indiana this year than at any time in the state's history.

After a period of indifference during which immense wealth in native hardwoods—the finest in the world—was cut, owing to commercial demands for Indiana hardwoods, the people at last realize that one of our state's greatest resources is near exhaustion. In addition to lack of timber, underground water tables are receding, floods are more frequent for lack of checks at the headwaters, soil wash and erosion common and land heretofore fertile, is now unproductive. Added to this it has cost the people of this state more than a million dollars a year in freight rates to obtain the needed timber from forests of different states.

Pure prodigality and selfish interests to acquire fabulous riches through sacrifice of nature's greatest endowments brought about this deplorable condition. Whereas the state's 22,000,000 acres formerly grew gigantic forest trees, today we learn we have less than 2,000,000 acres in growing timber much of which is of only mediocre quality.

Potential forest lands lie chiefly in the southern part of the state. It is estimated whole counties could more profitably grow trees, owing to the rough topography, than to follow agriculture or dairying.

France Offers Conditional Recognition of Soviet Government

(By United Press)

Genoa, April 22.—France today offered conditional recognition to the Russian Bolshevik government.

Louis Barthou, chief of the French delegation to the Genoa economic conference, announced willingness to extend this recognition provided Russia carried out its promises made in its reply to the allied demands. But first he said, Russia, must be put on probation.

CHANGE IN COURSE OF BRANCH IS PLAN

Proposal to Enclose Open Ditch is Expected to Meet With Violent Opposition

THE NEW COURSE PROPOSED

Many Property Owners Living as Far East as Main Street Would Help Bear Cost

The proposed rerouting of the course of Hodges Branch, and the enclosing of the open ditch into a sewer, is causing considerable comment from people living in the vicinity of the proposed change, and it is expected that when the matter comes up for remonstrating, that the project will be bitterly fought.

Members of the city council recently acted favorably on a proposition presented to them by residents living in the northwest portion of the city, in which they demanded that the open ditch be enclosed in sewer tile. Lon Stewart, city engineer, drew up plans and specifications in which he estimated the cost at $40,000 and proposed to change the course of the waterway at a point near Spencer street and the C. I. & W. railroad.

It is planned to run the sewer south along Spencer street under the railroad and under Third street, down to Second, and then west to the place where the branch, now flows, and thus cutting off several turns which it now takes. The cost of the project will fall upon the property owners in Rushville corporation, which are affected by the improvement, and this will mean that many people living as far east as Main street will be taxed for the proposed improvement.

Members of the city council went over the ground with the engineer this week and it is expected that the project will be ordered and a time set for hearing remonstrances.

At the present time the improvement of a similar nature is involved in the circuit court, as the county board of commissioners turned it down and the original petitioners took an appeal to the circuit court, where the matter has never been heard.

The councilmen also will probably pave a half block in West Ninth street, near the Reynolds Manufacturing Company, where the heavy traffic is continually causing damage to the street.

CHARLES V. CARR IS GIVEN $90 DAMAGES

Jury Returns Verdict Against Lew
Lewis, Walker Township Trustee,
For Sheep Killed

THE SUM APPRAISERS FIXED

The jury which heard the case of Charles V. Carr against Lew Lewis, trustee of Walker township, a damage suit in which the plaintiff demanded judgment for sheep killed by dogs in the township, decided that the plaintiff should have the amount that the two appraisers fixed for the damage, and awarded him $90.

The case was given over to the jury late Friday and the jurors agreed on the first ballot and were out only five minutes. The plaintiff filed a claim of sheep killed and the trustee refused to pay the $90, and offered him $70, although the two appraisers placed his loss at $90.

Today was the final day of the February term of court, and several minor matters were taken up by the court. Next week will be vacation during the period between the two terms of court.

A total of 97 men will draw pay for jury services during the February term, which is almost a record for any single court term.

The Early Friends at Carthage

First Land Entered on the East Side of Blue River by Joseph Henley in 1821 And Six Years Later Walnut Ridge Was Established—Growth of Church and School to Present Time.

The following article is the second of a series regarding the early history of Rush County, which will be published in the Daily Republican between now and the Rush county centennial celebration in June. They will deal with various stages of the early development of the county and were written at the request and suggestion of the publicity committee for the centennial—Editor's Note.

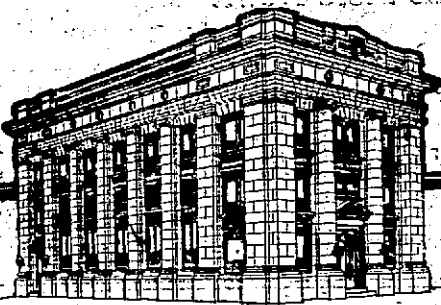

By OWEN S. HENLEY

Early in the Eighteenth Century the Friends in North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and other points in the South, were becoming dissatisfied under the conditions slavery was imposing upon them, and seeking means of bettering the surroundings of their children, Indiana Territory seemed a land of promise. Congress had passed an ordinance prohibiting slavery, and encouraging education. The first land entered upon the east side of Blue river was probably by Joseph Henley in 1821.

In the succeeding years until '32 or '33 the land was rapidly taken up by the families of Friends as follows: Jesse Hill, John Black, Thomas Henley, Luke Newsom, Jonathan Pierson, Henry Newby, Abraham Small, Elias Henley, Tristram Cogshall, Henry Henley, John Newby, Ezekiah Henley, William Binford, Jonathan Jessup, John Winslow and others. A Preparative meeting of Friends was established on the west side of Blue river, called Walnut Ridge in 1827, and these Friends on the east side of the river, made that their "religious home" until 1839, when a request was sent in to the meeting at Walnut Ridge for the establishing of a Meeting to be known as "Carthage Meeting of Friends." It was also requested that a committee be appointed to assist in the selection of a suitable location for the meeting house.

This committee reported one month later in favor of granting the request and suggested the northwest corner of Joseph Henley's, and the north corner of John Clark's farms, as a suitable place for

Buttermilk Starting Feed For Little Chicks

1. Conkey's will prevent your big losses of little chicks due to weakness and disease.
2. Conkey's will give your chickens that quick start in growth that is necessary to insure early broilers and layers.
3. Conkey's will help prevent White Diarrhea, as the lactic acid in the buttermilk helps to sweep away and neutralize the germs that cause it.
4. Conkey's is low in fibre and just right in protein, scientifically correct. Does not injure or overtax the sensitive digestive apparatus.
5. Conkey's is the only Buttermilk Starting Feed made by the Conkey Original Process, in which the buttermilk is thoroughly incorporated with the other ingredients. We use semi-liquid buttermilk only.

"Nothing Equals Conkey's"

U. R. Fisher, the well-known breeder of White Plymouth Rocks at Fishelton Farms, Hope, Ind., writes: "Conkey's Buttermilk Starting Feed is the best feed for young chicks. I have found nothing to equal it in the 40 years I have been in business."

Feed It for the First 8 Weeks

When the chicks are hatched, give them clean water with the chill taken off and fine grit, but no feed for 48 hours. Then feed Conkey's Buttermilk Starting Feed dry, often but sparingly for the first few days, so they will clean it up, gradually increasing, and continue for eight weeks, with occasionally a little green food. If you do this, you should lose very few chicks on account of sickness.

Conkey's Buttermilk Starting Feed is sold at dealers carrying poultry feeds and supplies. If your dealer can't supply you with Conkey's, write direct to us and we shall see that you are supplied.

SPENT HALF HER TIME IN BED

Farmer's Wife Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her a Well Woman

Carter's Creek, Tenn. — "Three years ago I was almost an invalid. I spent half of my time in bed, being afflicted with a trouble which women of a certain age are apt to have. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a well woman now and have been for two years. I can work as well as any one who is younger and as I am a farmer's wife I have plenty to do for I cultivate my own garden, raise many chickens and do my own housework. You may publish this letter as I am ready to do anything to help other women as I have been so well and happy since my troubles are past." —Mrs. E. T. GALLOWAY, Carter's Creek, Tenn.

Most women find plenty to do. If they are upset with some female ailment and troubled with such symptoms as Mrs. Galloway had, the smallest duty seems a mountain.

If you find it hard to keep up, if you are nervous and irritable, without ambition and out of sorts generally, give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. We believe it will help you greatly, for it has helped others.

grounds to be used for meeting and school purposes. It is interesting to note the deeds for this ground state that for "love and the better maintenance of society we transfer this ground to the trustees in succession of said body." Soon after the transfer a good frame house commodious for that time, with two rooms connected by sliding shutters, was erected.

This served the congregation until 1866 when its capacity was just doubled by building on the west. This building then served until 1881, when the present substantial brick structure was erected, the Endeavor room on the north being added some years later. The "charter members" or Carthage Meeting of Friends, numbered 161 and at this time, 1922, one member, Jemima Henley White, remains alive, residing at Guilford College, North Carolina.

Education claimed the very early attention of these Friends on the east side, in 1830. A little log house was built, near where the home of William P. Newsom now stands. Here Henry Henley, George Hummcutt and others, taught until 1834, when Thomas Henley, Thomas Hill and Henry Newby were appointed trustees to hold the deed, and build a house on the farm of Abraham Small, near where the overhead bridge now stands. A substantial frame building was erected here, eighteen by thirty-five feet and used for school purposes until 1839 when it was removed to the site selected for the Meeting house. Here it furnished accommodation for school purposes until 1849 when it was again removed into the town of Carthage and is now used for office purposes.

Quite a departure was now taken when a commodious house of three rooms was erected, school room, recitation room and lobby, principal and assistant were employed, and the school was so far in advance of the township schools that many "outsiders" pleaded for entrance and payment of tuition. From the church has gone out nearly one hundred teachers since its establishment. It has furnished to colleges more than one hundred students, many of them graduating and becoming noted characters.

William Binford was the first recorded minister to serve in the congregation. Others recorded by the meeting were David Marshal, Jared P. Binford, Henry C. Aydelotte, Mary N. Henley, Rhoda M. Hill and Herschel Folger, Robert Knight and William J. Thornberry came as sojourning ministers at different periods. Elwood Scott was the first pastor under the system introduced about 1881. Succeeded him were Mary-Nicols, Thos. W. Woodard and others for short terms. Alpheus Trueblood, Charles O. Whitely, J. Edgar Williams, Harry Hole, Fred C. Sebert, Albert J. Furstenberger, and Ida T. Parker, the present incumbent. The meeting owns about four acres of ground surrounding the church. In 1910 a parsonage was built, costing over $3,000. Upon the ground is also a cemetery with a liberal endowment, and it is kept in nice condition.

promised in order to get the land bank established.

Friends of Mr. Thomas here are rejoicing that he has received the appointment because they believe he merits it and because he is amply well qualified to perform the duties which will devolve upon him in establishing the bank, but they regret very much to see him leave Rushville, where he has been identified with the business, civic and religious life of the city for almost twenty-seven years.

Mr. Thomas was reared at Milroy and as a young man spent a few years in the west. He returned to Milroy and entered the hardware business with Wylie McKee, and continued that connection for about four years, or until August, 1895, when he began serving his first term as county recorder, having been elected on the republican ticket. Mr. Thomas was elected to a second term and served four years and four months, or until January 1, 1905, on account of the time of the expiration of the recorder's term having been changed by the legislature.

After leaving office, Mr. Thomas was appointed trustee for the Lambert carriage works in West Ninth street, and when the affairs of the concern were closed, he took up an active part in the campaign of James E. Watson, then sixth district congressman, for the republican nomination for governor in 1908. All of that year was spent in the campaign, in which Senator Watson was defeated by Thomas R. Marshall in a wet and dry fight.

The following year the Peoples Loan and Trust company was organized and Mr. Thomas was made its secretary.

Mr. Thomas rendered a very notable service during the war as chairman of the Rush county chapter of the American Red Cross and also devoted much of his time to making addresses in the interest of Liberty Loan campaigns and other patriotic work.

He has always taken an active part in all movements for the betterment of the city and county, and it is quite certain that his leaving Rushville will be a distinct loss to the community.

High Schools All Over the State Will Take Part in Sectional and State Meets Next Month

STATE MEET AT RICHMOND

Expected That New Records Will be Established on Cinder Track—Phillips is Mentioned

By HEZE CLARK
(Written for United Press)
Indianapolis, April 22—With less than a month remaining before the sectional track and field meets in which high school athletes qualify for the privilege of contesting in the state championship meet coaches of the teams are now busy with outdoor practice.

The state meet will be held at the Earlham College athletic field at Richmond and Ray Mowe, athletic director, of the Quaker college declared the track this year will be the fastest cinder path in the state. Mowe believes some new records will be made by the prep school athletes next month.

There is one thing about track and field sports which makes them popular; every high school man has an opportunity to compete in the contest in which he is best qualified. More boys get training in track athletics than in any other branch of prep school athletic activity. For example when "Shorty" Morrison, coach at the Indianapolis training school issued his first call for track men last week 123 candidates answered.

Last year Coach Morrison developed the track team that won the state championship in the meet held at Franklin.

There will be some more new names this year on the honor roll at the close of the state meet at Richmond for several of the big point men at last season's state championships have graduated. Schools over the state have been harder hit by graduation than have Manual and Technical in this city, but Shortridge lost its best man, Lottick, a quarter mile runner.

Spradling, the Frankfort champion half miler, is still in school and it will take a fast boy to beat him. Last year Phillips of Rushville was a wonderful distance man. Summers of Manual appears to be one of the best shot putters in the state.

Marks, the wonderful low hurdle man of Wabash, who broke the state record twice last year and lost in the final when he tripped and fell, will again step the 220 yard low hurdles for the northern Indiana school.

He is a quartermile runner and a broad jumper. Sheridan high should be good this year in track.

Last year the state was divided into ten districts for the sectional track meets at which the men qualified for the state meet. It is probable these same centers will be chosen again this year. The cities where sectional meets were held were: Bloomington, Connersville, Evansville, Anderson, Crawfordsville, Indianapolis, Fort Wayne, Greencastle, Rochester, and South Bend.

MANY LOCAL FANS GOING

Tail Lights and Greensburg Will Pry Off League Lid Sunday

A large crowd of baseball fans from this city are expected to motor to Greensburg Sunday when the Tail Lights and Eagles will pry open the lid for the Southern Indiana League, and Rushville will present a strong line-up in an effort to win

the first game. Barnhardt, a short stop, who played several games last year here, has been signed and will hold a position on the infield, probably at second. The squad of players now numbers about 16, and within a few weeks each team will have to register only a dozen players, and the Tail Lights are attempting to get a line on a good bunch of players before signing them up for the permanent season.

Three pitchers will be with Rushville Sunday, Plummer, Jerome and Huddleson, and Stoneking is booked to pitch for Greensburg. The game will begin at 2:30.

Miss Edna Creamer, the Riley girl of Indiana, will appear in a public recital at the Christian church in Glenwood Wednesday evening April 26. 35tf

Vaudeville and Pictures—Princess

In "Beating the Game," the latest Tom Moore starring vehicle, which comes to the Princess theater today, from the Goldwyn studios, two complete general stores, were constructed and stocked. One showed the country store before the enterprising hero took it in charge and the other showed it after he had had it for six months. Complete lines of canned goods, dry goods, groceries, meats, and other household necessities were used and in the second store all of the latest mechanical devices, coffee grinders, meat slicers, scales, and cash registers were installed.

In addition to the feature picture, two acts of high class vaudeville will be on the program today.

Fred Stone at the Mystic.

Laugh follows laugh and thrill follows thrill in "The Duke of Chimney Butte," in which Fred Stone appears under the auspices of R-C Pictures at the Mystic today. She is portrayed by Yola Vale, formerly leading woman for William S. Hart. Stone gives a rip-roaring exhibition in "The Duke of Chimney Butte." His skill at riding, at shooting and at roping steers and bad men is revealed in thrilling fashion, as are several other feats in which this skillful entertainer is the center of interest. "The Duke of Chimney Butte" was directed by Frank Borzage, who produced
